When:

Friday mornings, six times a year.

(See schedule.) Two weeks later via video.

The events are meant to entertain and inform.

Certification:

- All seminars have been awarded 1.25 recertification credit hours toward PHR, SPHR and GPHR recertification.

Cost:

- Free. At times, there may be a limit on the number of people who may attend in person from one organization. Preference is given to clients of The Five O'Clock Club. Any number are welcome.

HR professionals participate in our organized networking at the breakfast before the seminar.

What HR says about the HR Network Events:

“I make a habit of attending a wide variety of events and yours is by far the best in terms of organization, speakers, content and attendees”

“When I returned to the office we had an impromptu meeting of our executive team, where I described the topic and talked about the key points. We had a good discussion—all thanks to this morning’s program.”

“I’ve probably said this before, but I really believe that this was the best panel yet. Each presenter had useful and actionable points. I appreciate all that you and the Five O’Clock Club do. You’re a special group!”

Why We Do It:

The Five O’Clock Club, a national career coaching and outplacement firm, holds these events to say thank you to our clients and to the HR community. Many of our clients attend these programs—inperson or via video. In fact, our clients can always be sure of getting into these events. Most events are completely sold out within days of our formal announcement of the event. (You may not register before the formal announcement.) But our clients can relax because there’s always room for them. They come first—even if they call us the day before an event!

Why should YOU be an outplacement client of the Five O’Clock Club beyond being guaranteed a seat? Because our methodology for job hunters is high impact. The average professional, manager or executive has a new job or is in the negotiating stage within just 10 weeks.

Yet why are all of our programs for one year or more — (but cost less than a 3-month program at any other firm?)

Our mantra is to “do what is in the best interests of the job hunter”—your former employees. Our program provides downside protection to your employees. A one-year program means that employees can work for many months at a consulting assignment and still have the use of our services. Or they can get help with problems in a new job—even for months. Or, heaven forbid—if they lose that next job, they can come back to us. No one else does that!

- Now YOU can learn more about our great job-search techniques by observing a “Coaching in Action” session at the Club. Feel the excitement for yourself. Just call David Madison at 212-286-4500 to sign up to observe the Club.
- Many of our clients have become heroes in their organizations because they recommended the Five O’Clock Club. We hope you’ll become a hero too by telling your employer about the NEW model of outplacement as practiced by The Five O’Clock Club—very different from whatever you’ve experienced before.

Hundreds of HR professionals attend. Some even agree to sit on the stage.
